SLACKER CASE OF SCAVENIUS STILL IN AIR

Wilfred James Singleton, better known to Honoluluans as Fritz Scavenius, a piano teacher, may be prosecuted as a "slacker," and, on the other hand, his case may be dropped, now that he has registered and is subject to draft unless he can claim exemption on the ground that he is not a citizen of the United States.

Just what shall be done with Singleton, or Scavenius, lies with District Attorney S. C. Huber, and the federal official today declared he has not yet made up his mind as regards the disposition of the case. Singleton's case was originally in the hands of the central registration board, which turned it over to Attorney Huber with the recommendation that he prosecute.

Whether the case is of sufficient strength to warrant the federal officials using it to launch its campaign of prosecution of slackers, is a question which has presented a rather unique problem, says the district attorney, and is one, he adds, which is to be given thorough consideration before the case is finally disposed of one way or another.

She told the court that her husband cut her up with a knife recently and that he is now serving a jail sentence for the assault. Circuit Judge Heen is considering the case and may place the children in a local home until the woman gets a position.

An appeal to the juvenile court to take care of her children so that she could go out and work and earn a living for them and for herself, was made today by a Portuguese woman who claims she is destitute.

Dr. Jonathan T. McDonald returned yesterday in the Matsonia from an extended vacation in the mainland. He went as far south as New Orleans and east as far as New York. Dr. McDonald's health was fully restored during the trip.

MANY APPLY FOR CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS

For the civil service examinations for firemen and policemen nearly 100 have already filed application. The last day for filing the applications is Saturday. The physical examination takes place August 25 and the mental September 1. Both are in the evening and will be held at the McKinley high school.

STAR-BULLETIN'S PUBLICITY WINS

Star-Bulletin publicity has again scored 100 per cent and Charles P. Morse, general freight agent of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co., is hot on the trail of the owner of the barrel of cut glass and bric-a-brac that has been in his possession for the last year.

Ever since the barrel arrived here from New York in 1916 Mr. Morse has been looking for its owner. He got in touch with the Eastern city and with Pacific coast ports, but without avail. He even wrote to the Philippines.

A few days ago Mr. Morse told the story of the lost barrel to the Star-Bulletin, which was printed. Shortly after an army officer stationed at one of the local posts, where the Star-Bulletin is widely read, telephoned to Mr. Morse and told him he believed he could locate the owner of the barrel. In the opinion of the officer, the barrel is the property of a woman who formerly lived in Honolulu, but who removed to the mainland some months ago. The officer told Mr. Morse that she had been expecting a shipment of cut glass and bric-a-brac, and on several occasions had expressed surprise that it had not arrived.

Mr. Morse has fixed up a description of the contents of the barrel which will be forwarded to the woman, and she will be requested to cable the freight agent if it is hers.

"I sure am a believer in publicity," says Mr. Morse, "and in this instance it didn't cost me a cent."

FASCINATING HATS AND GARMENTS AT JEFFS

There are still left at Jeffs' Fashion Co. a number of most attractive hats and garments all marked down for the sale that has been so favorably commented on. This sale will continue for some days to come and advantage should be taken of it by the ladies of Honolulu.—Adv.

Judge Alexander Lindsay, Jr., will leave in the Matsonia next Wednesday for San Francisco and will spend a vacation of some months in the mainland.

MERCHANTS GIVE UP AD SPACE TO RED CROSS WORK

Beginning today Honolulu merchants and business houses will take a material part in the Red Cross campaign for funds for war relief work. To bring the Red Cross appeal before the public the merchants have agreed that each day one of the number shall devote his advertising space in the local English newspapers to an appeal in behalf of the organization. This step is in line with the Chicago plan which proved very successful in promoting the Red Cross campaign.

Today the Trent Trust Co. carries a full page ad in the Star-Bulletin devoted to the Red Cross. This ad will be repeated in the Advertiser tomorrow and tomorrow afternoon the Mutual Telephone Co. will carry a large display Red Cross ad and on Monday the Bergstrom Music Co. will devote its space in the Star-Bulletin to a mercy advertisement.

Mrs. Howard D. Case, who has been visiting in Seattle and other northwestern cities, will return to Honolulu on October 10.

Former Senator Charles A. Rice of Kauai is a visitor in the city and will remain here for the polo series at Kapiolani park.
